

Where Education and Adventure Unite...Let Your Journey Begin

Are field trips being eliminated from your school's budget? How about an in-house field trip?

Staying in the comfort of your school, students in every grade level take a field trip adventure to learn and grow. Combine this with workshops that inspire students to write and you have a foundation for academic success and lifelong learning!

You have a choice of FIVE excellent programs.

#1 Wondrous Journey

Participate in an interactive and informative program that highlights a two-year, 28-country journey around the globe. This option encourages students to dream big and experience the joy that is found in staying true to one's heart. Woven throughout are stories of positive character education and life lessons as learned from many cultures. Be part of a lasting impression guaranteed to inspire future generations.

A writing workshop accompanies Option #1. "The Writing Adventure" leads students through a journal-writing exercise. They will use their five senses to describe images from around the world -- the imagination knows no boundaries.

#2 G is for Gorillas and Giving

Travel to Africa and meet the mind-blowing mountain gorillas that call it home. This course spotlights science through conservation issues and how service projects have positive lasting impacts. Students will familiarize themselves with the characteristics and habitat of mountain gorillas as well as the cultures of the indigenous people.

Option # 2 is also supplemented by a writing workshop. "Scientists for a Day" establishes the framework of students as scientists in Africa, journaling about their animal studies.

#3 All Things Amazon

From the source to the mouth, explore the Amazon River and rain basin. This program highlights the discoveries and challenges of a six-month journey exploring the Amazon Rainforest of South America. Learn about some of the amazing plants, animals and people that call the Amazon home. Ideas and issues are presented in an engaging and interesting format that brings the Amazon to life!

#4 Wondrous Mississippi

Explore the Wondrous Mississippi River with me as I share a two-month journey following the river for 2,300 miles from its source to its mouth. Experience the beauty of the nature, the depth of the history and the inspiring people I encountered on my trip.

#5 Wondrous Creatures -- Explore a World of Animals

Learn about and explore the various habitats around the world and some of the amazing animals that live there. An optional writing workshop accompanies the program entitled "Scientists for a Day" that establishes the framework of students as scientists in various habitats, journaling on their animal studies.

The book, "Wondrous Creatures," documenting my exploration of wild animals from around the world, is available for purchase after the presentation.

If you are a teacher, PTA member, school administrator, or have any connection to the educational system, please consider bringing me to your school.
