

Where Education and Adventure Unite...Let Your Journey Begin

Explore the Magic of YOUR Nebraska

My curiosity of the world has taken me to 57 countries and six continents. I dared to dream and now often use this perspective to challenge others, in particular school children, to do the same.

It is with this foundation of curiosity and passion that I set out to explore Nebraska. This is a project I am calling: Explore with Dean – Your Nebraska. There are so many distractions and worthless time-grabbing noises in our culture; I sense we have forgotten how to appreciate or celebrate what we have right in our backyards.

This project is intended to capture and experience the magic of Nebraska. It is a way to deepen our appreciation of: where we came from, who we are and what we aim to be. Nebraska is not just a random place; the weather cycle here does not allow one to casually go through the motions and land here. Countless people have passed through Nebraska over wagon trails, dirt roads and rails, most determined to find something better. A few stayed.

If you are a teacher, PTA member, school administrator, or have any connection to the educational system, please consider bringing Dean Jacobs to your school.

In this presentation and workshop we explore your Nebraska, learn about those who stayed, rediscover the state's history and uncover hidden treasures in a compelling and educational way. A writing workshop has been created to accompany this presentation.

I look forward to sharing the magic of Nebraska with your students.

Cheers,
